

The reckon programming language

DingLin Yang

April 21, 2019

Abstract

A type in math is an object of category. And function is morphism consider composite,identity,cartesian product,etc. The category can describe the semantic model of computable function. This language is design for my undergraduate paper.