

The reckon programming language

DingLin Yang

January 7, 2019

Abstract

A type of computer data in math is an object of category. And function is morphism consider composite, identity, cartesian product, etc. This language is design for my undergraduate paper.